Summer Academe: A Journal of Higher Education provides summer session administrators and faculty with recent research, case studies, and information about administrative issues. Summer Academe welcomes scholars of different viewpoints, methodologies, disciplines, and cultures and encourages individuals to submit article manuscripts in various areas. The only criterion for manuscript content is that it bears on summer session administration or pedagogy. Summer Academe welcomes articles that react to or develop claims made in articles previously published in the Journal. Articles about continued research are also welcome, as are comments on and critiques of previously published articles. See information on inside back cover concerning submission guidelines.

The opinions presented in Summer Academe are those of the authors and not necessarily those of the editors, the sponsors, or the publisher. All rights reserved. Summer Academe: A Journal of Higher Education

Volume 3, 2000

Submission Guidelines

Article manuscripts should be submitted in both hard copy and on computer disk, and they should be sent to David Schejbal, Editor, Summer Academe: A Journal of Higher Education, Office of Continuing Education, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign, 202 University Centre, MC-433, 302 East John Street, Champaign, Illinois 61820-5126. The Chicago Manual of Style is the preferred style of reference. Summer Academe is a refereed journal, and articles are submitted for blind review; therefore a title page with the author's name and affiliation should be removable. Microsoft Word 6.1 for Macintosh is the preferred word-processing program. However, articles in other word-processing programs are acceptable as long as the program is clearly indicated or as long as the article is submitted in a simple text file

Editorial Board

Anyone interested in serving on the editorial board should send a letter of interest and CV to the editor at the above address. Editors will be chosen from various fields, and special attention will be paid to having a diverse editorial board.

Distribution and Subscriptions

Copies of each issue of Summer Academe are mailed to the individual members of the sponsoring associations. The journal is also available by subscription through Caddo Gap Press. See subscription information on opposite page.
